Send General Back To Army, Truman Urges

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN (P)—President Truman carried his new anti-Eisenhower campaign into Montana today after telling the voters they should send the general "back to the army where he belongs."

The goal of the president's 8,500-mile whistle-stop tour for the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket shaped up as a determined effort to strip Dwight D. Eisenhower of his glamor by picturing him as the dupe of an "unholy crew" of advisers.

Attacks Get Bitter
The increasingly bitter attacks on the Republican presidential nominee also included criticism of GOP vice presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon as a man with a voting record "against everything that is good for the people."

"Military life," the President said at Berthold, N. D., last night, is a good thing. "But it is training for war, not the prevention of war. What is needed is a man whose thinking is the thinking of the people of the United States, not a military mind."

Sorry For Ike
Over and over, Truman hammered at the idea that he felt "sorry" for Ike, as the "front man" for "big-time lobbyists," and that he "shouldn't be in the White House."

He laid the groundwork for more assaults in Montana built around 10 speeches, starting at Glasgow early in the morning and ending up at Columbia Falls, where he planned to spend the night.

He planned to leave his train at Chester at 1:15 p.m., Mountain Standard Time, and speak at ground-breaking ceremonies for the new Tiber Dam.

Convict Walks Out With Kiwanis Club
HUTCHINSON, Kan. (P)—An inmate of the State Reformatory "joined" the Kiwanis Club yesterday just long enough to escape.

Supt. Roy M. Frost said this is how it happened:

About 225 delegates to the State Kiwanis Convention were taken on a tour through the reformatory.

Mack M. Stipp, 23, serving a term for forgery, swiped some civilian clothes from the laundry, donned them and walked out the gate with the Kiwanians.

any campaigning for James M. Cox, who lost to Warren G. Harding.

In another, Calvin Coolidge remained virtually on the sidelines while Herbert Hoover campaigned successfully against Alfred E. Smith, in 1928.

The only approach to what is happening this year took place in 1908, when William Howard Taft was the candidate to succeed Theodore Roosevelt.

T. R. Aided Taft
The Taft-Roosevelt teamwork against William Jennings Bryan, the Democratic nominee, is made clear in the latest volume of "The Letters of Theodore Roosevelt," edited by Eiting L. Morrison and recently published by the Harvard University Press.

T. R. helped win the Republican nomination for Taft, dictated the party platform, and then waged a campaign of open letters in support of his man.

Roosevelt made no speeches for Taft, however, saying that in his judgment "it would do harm, rather than good."

There have been only three prior occasions in the last half century when it was possible for the outgoing president to help his party's nominee succeed him, and on two of those occasions little or no help was forthcoming.

Skin Disorder Gives Mme. Chiang Trouble
SAN FRANCISCO (P)—Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, in Franklin Hospital here for treatment of a skin disorder, is showing little improvement.

Mme. Chiang has been in the hospital since Aug. 16.

K. W. Yu, her spokesman, said yesterday she had a bad reaction from dosages of Aeth, a "miracle drug," when she first was hospitalized, since then her doctors have been slowly withdrawing the drug.

Communists In Every U. S. Agency, Says Chief Of CIA

War In Korea Is Defended By Gov. Stevenson

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (P)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, defending the administration's action in Korea, declared last night that when the Communists crossed the 38th Parallel "that was the testing point for freedom throughout the world."

The Democratic presidential nominee asserted in a nationwide television and radio broadcast that when the Reds were stopped in Korea the action "was received with enthusiastic shouts of approval by the overwhelming majority of the American people, and even by the Republican leadership."

Danger From Within
But now, he added, the Republicans "attempt to make you believe that it was almost an act of treason."

"But what do you think they would be saying now if we had not stopped the enemy in Korea, if Japan was threatened and if East Asia was falling bit by bit to the enemy?" he asked.

"Would they be saying that Harry Truman and Joseph Stalin were boyhood friends in Outer Mongolia?"

He said that "the Republican leadership is now telling us that the danger to this nation is from within, not from without. The danger lies not in Moscow, but in Washington. Your enemy is not Joseph Stalin, but Harry Truman, or even possibly Adlai Stevenson."

This country, he declared, "must play the principal part in saving ourselves, our friends and our civilization" from "this monster tyranny" of communism.

"How long can we keep on fighting in Korea, paying high taxes, helping others to help ourselves?" he asked.

"There is only one answer: We can keep it up as long as we have to, and we will."

Spurned Porter Hanged As Killer
LONDON (P)—Dennis George Muldowney, 41-year-old club porter, was hanged today for murdering a beautiful Polish-born countess who served as a British secret agent during World War II.

Muldowney had confessed stabbing Mrs. Christine Granville, 37, in the lobby of a Kensington Hotel last June 15 after she spurned his affections.

The one-time beauty queen met Muldowney a year before while working as a stewardess on an ocean liner. Friends said the man, a steward on the ship, mistook her kindness for love and pursued her.

The heroic wartime exploits of Mrs. Granville came to light after her slaying when it was revealed she was the holder of the British George Medal and the French Croix de Guerre and was an officer in the Order of the British Empire.

Man Picked Up In Marquette Admits $25,720 Iowa Holdup

MARQUETTE (P)—A confessed bank robber led state police today to a reported Michigan cache of part of the loot in a $25,720 Iowa holdup.

Troopers said the 27-year-old man, identified by Sheriff Albert Jacobson as Alden William Brooks, had told them he hid about $8,000 of the loot from the holdup at a spot near Rose City in the northern lower peninsula.

Brooks was taken to the vicinity, but there was no immediate report that the money had been found. The robbery was at Ankeny, Ia.

Sheriff Jacobson also disclosed that Brooks was accompanied by a teen-aged Michigan girl during at least part of his holdup and car-stealing tour of several states.

The FBI picked up the girl in Tucson, Ariz., one of Brooks' stops, Jacobson added, but said he had no details of the arrest.

Robbed Taverns
Brooks also admitted several tavern burglaries and an attempted bank holdup at Poplar, Wis., the sheriff said.

Brooks was arrested here recently for questioning about an attempted breaking and entering at a tavern at McFarland, in Marquette County.

During the questioning, the sheriff said, Brooks confessed attempting to rob the Poplar bank Aug. 21.

The FBI then was called in and Jacobson said in further questioning that Brooks confessed the Aug. 1 holdup of the bank at Ankeny, Ia. At Poplar an attempted holdup was thwarted when a banker fled into the vault, pulling the door shut behind him.

Burglary In Manistique
Brooks was quoted as saying he hid all but $8,000 of the Ankeny loot in Oklahoma. He also confessed, according to the sheriff, that he hid some of the loot in Michigan.

Jacobson said Brooks, a native of Upper Michigan, also admitted breaking into tavern in Manistique and Grayling, and stealing cars at Milwaukee, Grand Rapids, and Springville, Minn.

Watch Our Step
Smith said that to his knowledge no Communists ever have been actually found in CIA, that he does not know the identity of any there—and he said he would get rid of them if he did—but he added:

"In our meetings we keep telling each other that somewhere along the line we must be penetrated so we try to keep our mouths shut and watch our step."

"I believe they are so adroit and adept they have infiltrated every security agency of the government."

Gen. Smith's comments came while he was testifying at a deposition hearing in Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's two million dollar libel-slander suit against Sen. William Benton.

Radio Talks Booked
There was swift reaction from the Republican National Committee. It announced a nationwide radio-television broadcast tonight centering around the Communists in government issue.

Invited To Debate
While keeping up their campaigns, Moody and Potter received an invitation from the AFL Teamsters union, asking them to participate in three hour-long debates to be broadcast and telecast during October.

James R. Hoffa, Teamsters president, said the suggestions were being made because "we regard the election of a U. S. senator from Michigan this year as the most important political contest Michigan has had for many years."

Bay City First
This revised train schedule was announced last night by state GOP headquarters in Lansing:

Bay City, 9:15 to 9:30 a. m.; Saginaw, 10:05 to 10:30 a. m.; Lansing, 11:35 a. m. to 12:05 p. m.; Flint, 12:35 to 1:35 p. m.; Jackson, 2:50 to 3:25 p. m.; Grand Rapids, 5:20 p. m., and Grand Rapids, 7:40 to 7:55 p. m.

Secretary of State Fred M. Alger Jr., Republican candidate for governor, and Rep. Charles Potter, GOP senatorial nominee, will be among those traveling on the Eisenhower Special.

But they'll keep swinging verbally until the "all aboard" sounds. And their Democratic rivals, Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Senator Blair Moody won't be idle.

Axe To Grind

Truman speaks from notes mostly, though sometimes he disregards them and launches into a free-wheeling, hand-waving, jaw-thrusting tirade against the Republicans that brings cackles of appreciation from his hearers. And the time-tested cries:

"Pour it on, Harry."

"Give 'em hell, Harry."

He does, but not for long. These are short speeches, seldom more than five minutes. Before his audience has a chance to fidget, Truman folds his big gray notebook, waves goodbye and then—

He has an after thought.

"Come Out, Baby"

Sometimes it's an invitation from the crowd that seems to remind him—a call of "Where's Margaret?"

Then Truman acts as surprised and pleased as if he'd just discovered his daughter was along.

"Come out, baby, they're asking for you," he murmurs through the curtain.

And Margaret comes out—as bouncy as her dad, with a shucks-it's-only-me smile and a wave that still manages to look a little shy. Now the applause really rings out. Margaret gets at least as big a hand as the President.

Reds Infiltrate Cleverly; G.O.P. Takes Up Fight

By JACK RUTLEDGE
WASHINGTON (P)—The head of America's super-secret intelligence service says he believes Communists have infiltrated every security organization, including his own Central Intelligence Agency.

At the same time Gen. Walter Bedell Smith implied yesterday this might be working both ways when he added:

"We have to assume that our enemies are as clever as we are and that they will succeed from time to time."

Marinette Jails Four Delta Men; Admit Car Theft

Four Delta county men today were held in jail at Marinette following a night hunt for two of them who were stopped when warning shots were fired by Marinette county sheriff's officers.

Marinette Sheriff James Spangler said no charges have yet been placed against them, but that one youth admitted the theft of a car in Escanaba last Friday night.

Held in jail at Marinette are: Joseph Polequin, 17, of 331 North 12th St., Escanaba, who the sheriff said confessed the theft of an auto owned by Albert Nelson of Rock.

Halted Near Crivitz

William Couillard, 43, of Chicago and Woodlawn, near Cornwell, who is wanted in Delta county on a charge of non-support.

Norman Couillard, 19, and Robert Couillard, 17, of Woodlawn, brothers of William Couillard. Marinette officers caught up with the car owned and driven by William Couillard at 2 a. m. today one mile south of Crivitz on US-141, after an investigation last night at Woodlawn by officers of the Delta county sheriff's department.

Sheriff William E. Miron holds a warrant for William Couillard charging non-support of his wife, Margaret, and two sons, 12 and 8.

Two Shots Fired

By State Police radio Marinette officers were alerted to watch for the Couillard car.

When Marinette officers halted the car William Couillard and Polequin ran into the woods, ignoring a warning bullet. Polequin was found hiding a short time later and taken in custody.

William Couillard was captured about 10 a. m. today when officers caught up with him as he ran across a field and shot at him.

When Couillard abandoned his car early today he left it with a woman he described to officers as his wife and their two young children. Marinette officers said Couillard was on his way back to Chicago.

Sheriff Spangler said Polequin confessed that he and another Escanaba youth, still being sought, drove away the Albert Nelson car from where it was parked near Farmers Market in Escanaba last Friday.

Polequin On Probation

The youths abandoned the car in Menominee after police chased them there at 90 miles an hour.

Polequin, according to records here, was placed on probation for three years for breaking and entering in Delta county. He was sentenced in circuit court in July, 1951.

Sheriff Spangler said Polequin told him he would waive extradition to Michigan and Delta county.

Escanaba police are continuing their investigation of the recovery here Saturday of a car stolen in Menominee and abandoned on Lake Shore Drive. Officers said they believe the car was driven here by the youths who had stolen the Nelson car and eluded capture in Menominee.

Briefly Told

Rifle Club—The Escanaba Rifle and pistol Club will hold target practice this evening at the outdoor range, northwest of the Escanaba Ski Park. All gun fans are invited to attend.

Report Youth Missing—Harold Edward Myers, 15, of Escanaba Rte. 1, today was reported to Escanaba police as missing from his home since Saturday. He was riding a motor scooter.

Drivers Ticketed—Escanaba police have issued traffic tickets to Gerald Peterson of Bark River Rte. 1 for making a U-turn, and to Stanley K. Lundberg of 301 South 13th St. for disobeying a stop sign.

Mental Clinic Here—Dr. W. R. Purmort will conduct a mental clinic at the Health Department Thursday, Oct. 9, from 1:30 to 4:30 p. m. He will be accompanied by Morse Turney, psychologist, and Mrs. Helen Stewart, social worker.

POLIO TREATMENT—Miss Jane Kennedy, R.N., nurse-therapist for the Michigan Crippled Children's commission, observes physical therapy treatment given to Marvin Schaeffer, 19, of Brampton, by Clarence Moore, physical therapist in the Escanaba School system. Also observing is John Lemmer, superintendent of Escanaba schools.

Miss Kennedy, who comes here frequently from Marquette, is assisting the school and the health department in care of polio patients being returned from St. Luke's hospital at Marquette. It is planned that she will visit homes in outlying communities, to teach parents to care for the less seriously afflicted and to evaluate cases. Already, 12 new polio patients have reported to Therapist Moore here for treatment of residual paralysis and weakness resulting from the disease.

Thirty-two Delta County cases have been dismissed from St. Luke's hospital. Most will require some treatment, though "we have been fortunate in that cases of residual paralysis have not been large in number," Miss Kennedy states. The Crippled Children's nurse, who will remain in Delta County until Thursday, stresses that returning polio patients should avoid over-fatigue and cautions that they are apt to be "irritable" from the illness. Big Quartet Contest In Escanaba Nov. 1

Top-ranking barbershop quartets from four states and three Canadian provinces will compete in Escanaba Nov. 1 for the championship of the Land O' Lakes district, SPEBSQSA. There will be afternoon and evening shows, at the Oliver Memorial auditorium, with eliminations in the afternoon and the title competition at night. After the night show, the traditional barbershop "afterglow" songfest will be held at the Knights of Columbus hall.

Arrangements for the contest are going ahead under the direction of Ken Thompson, secretary of the Escanaba barbershop chapter, contest chairman, with the cooperation of Allan Kapitzke of Oshkosh, Wis., district president; George Bodette of Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., vice president; Darrell Dewitt of Wisconsin Rapids, district treasurer; Arthur G. Blitz of Green Bay, district treasurer; and Cap Winch of Green Bay, area counselor.

All events at the junior high school auditorium will be open to the public, and tickets are expected to go on sale this week for the event, the first of its kind ever held in Escanaba. At least 25 quartets are expected to take part in the program, and there will be numbers by the Escanaba chapter's Bay de Noc chorus under the direction of Sam Ham.

States included in the district which will send competing quartets are North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, along with the Canadian provinces of Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Western Ontario. Canadian chapters include Winnipeg, Norwood and Brandon, Man., and Kenora, Ont.

The annual Land O' Lakes SPEBSQSA district convention will be held in connection with the district contest at Escanaba.

Olson Will Talk On School Attire At MEA Meeting

MANISTIQUE—Carl Olson, principal of Manistique High School, will talk on the type of attire worn by high school students at the Michigan Education association conference in Marquette Thursday.

Olson's speech will be one of four presented at the high school principals' section of the conference, which will be attended by 2400 Upper Michigan teachers.

Other principals who will speak on the program are Paul K. Ward of L'Anse High School, who will discuss absences due to hunting, fishing and potato picking; Robert Jefferson, of Iron River, who will talk on control of school dances and parties; and W. Harold Berkel, of Munising, who is to discuss regulation of school club activities.

Lawrence E. Vredevoe, director of the University of Michigan bureau of school services, will be consultant for the principals' sessions. He also is scheduled to speak on the trend of mathematics in Michigan high schools.

Other teachers in this area scheduled for the conference program are Principal Erich Werner, of Seney, who is chairman of the section on rural education; Mrs. LeRoy Wilson, of Manistique, who is one of three chairmen for the parent-teacher section; and Joel Kela, of Gwinn, who is chairman of the geography section.

The annual Land O' Lakes SPEBSQSA district convention will be held in connection with the district contest at Escanaba.

Rural Schools Get Music Help

Rural students in Delta County this year are going to learn music by radio.

They will use University of Michigan tape - recorded music programs to be broadcast twice a week beginning Oct. 14. These will be channeled through radio station WDBC in Escanaba.

Five townships within the county have completed plans to air the programs in their classrooms, and most others are making plans to have radios in classrooms in time for the broadcasts.

All Schools Cooperating

The only cost to schools is for song books and teacher's manual which supplements the program, Hagle Quarnstrom, Delta County school superintendent, says.

Control groups of school children are brought into Ann Arbor by the University of Michigan and recordings are made there by them, Quarnstrom explains.

All rural schools are cooperating in the project, the Delta superintendent states.

Aired Tuesdays, Thursdays

The programs are particularly for rural areas where there are no music supervisors and where teachers may lack musical training. However, they are available to any school and can be utilized in conjunction with other music schedules, Quarnstrom points out. Some schools already had radios for the project, and others are supplying them, the Delta superintendent notes.

Ford River, Cornwell, Escanaba, Brampton and Fairbanks townships have completed arrangements for the music broadcasts, which are scheduled for 2:30 p. m., every Tuesday and Thursday.

This is the first year Delta rural schools will be using the broadcasts in class. The University of Michigan radio station has been broadcasting them for two years.

He also is scheduled to speak on the trend of mathematics in Michigan high schools.

Other teachers in this area scheduled for the conference program are Principal Erich Werner, of Seney, who is chairman of the section on rural education; Mrs. LeRoy Wilson, of Manistique, who is one of three chairmen for the parent-teacher section; and Joel Kela, of Gwinn, who is chairman of the geography section.

CONFERENCE CHAIRMAN—Allan Mathison, Escanaba teacher, is chairman of the Region 7 M.E.A. conference which will be held Thursday and Friday in Marquette. All public and parochial schools in the county will be closed while teachers are attending. About 2400 teachers will be at the conference.

Raspberries In Second Bloom at Hunt Home, Rock

ROCK—With an unusually long summer still persisting many oddities out season keep cropping up. Take Ed Hunt's raspberry patch for instance. Mr. Hunt, who takes great pride in his garden, relates that he has grown Chatham raspberry plants for over ten years but this is the first time they have budded in September. Hunt counted nearly a hundred buds on his plants but says the frost will get the raspberries before they ripen. And just for the record, Mr. and Mrs. Hunt were probably the only folks in Rock who were enjoying fresh strawberry shortage on Sunday. The strawberries were also a product of their garden.

Large Order For Hay Received

The need is continuing for Delta county hay in the drought areas of the South.

The largest order yet to be received here came into the local Production and Marketing Administration office Friday for 400 tons of hay to be used as livestock fodder on farms and ranches in Texas and Georgia.

555 Tons Shipped

Response of county farmers to previous calls for the crop has been extremely good, with approximately 555 tons already shipped to the South in 37 railroad cars loaded at different points in the county.

Local PMA official Mrs. Irene Blomberg reported that the new order calls for 200 tons of mixed hay, 100 tons of grass and 100 tons of legume variety. The mixed hay has been asked for shipment to Texas and the other two varieties for Georgia.

Although farmers are busy now with harvesting the 1952 potato crop and filling their silos, they are taking time out to ship their available hay, Mrs. Blomberg stated.

Farmers in the areas around Rapid River, Rock, Ford River, Fayette, Bark River and Isabella have shipped some of their hay since the project was begun early this month. A new source will be tapped this week when growers in Garden are expected to load a number of cars for the new order.

Expect More Orders

It is anticipated that Delta county will continue to receive orders for hay shipments through the next couple of months. The Chicago office of the Commodity Credit Corporation has reported that a vital need for the hay still exists in the southern states.

Shipments here are part of a federal rehabilitation program to provide stricken southern farmers and ranchers with necessary crops and capital to revive their livelihoods after a disastrous summer dry period.

Kiwanis Club Starts Singing For Show

Under the direction of Sam Ham, Escanaba Kiwanis club members Monday started singing some of the songs they will help to put over in the annual Kiwanis home talent show to be presented Oct. 18, 20 and 21 at the Oliver Memorial auditorium. The show this year, a musical comedy fantasy, is called "This Is Paradise," and is an original by J. Alton Mallmann, Escanaba letter carrier, who also produced the 1951 Kiwanis show "What's Cookin'."

A high school group of some 50 singers will help lend volume to the chorus numbers of the show for which rehearsals start Wednesday night at the junior high school. Principals of the cast started work on the lines of the show last night.

In addition to the song rehearsal at their meeting Monday, the Escanaba Kiwanians were entertained by a color and sound motion picture, "From Every Mountain," presented by Charles Hammar, program chairman.

Hot-Pack Equipment Is Paulson Memorial

Hot-pack equipment for treating post-polio cases here has been received, and will be paid for by a Fred Paulson Memorial Fund set up by EHS students, Supt. John Lemmer announced today.

Students of Escanaba Senior High School contributed about $75 to a memorial fund for Fred Paulson, 17, a senior track letterman, who died Sept. 14 from poliomyelitis.

The purchase provides a portable, four-pack hydrocollator for the physical therapy department in the Escanaba Junior High School.

The apparatus consists of a stainless steel box with a thermostatic unit which will boil water for heating chemical packs within the hydrocollator. Extra packs were ordered for loaning to parents of children afflicted with polio.

The hot-pack equipment is used preparatory to stretching and exercising by patients with stiff, sore muscles, for treating youngsters too small to be put into a tank for hydromassage, and for persons with involvement of neck muscles.

The chemical packs, which are grooved to fit various parts of the body, hold heat for one-half hour. The equipment is the same type used by the University of Michigan physical medicine department.

The material was shipped from Chattanooga, Tenn., and arrived

Controls Off And On

ALLENTOWN Pa. Off went rent controls in this Eastern Pennsylvania city yesterday.

Back they came again just two hours later.

For months the city Council gathered data on the question of keeping rent controls. After many hearings and debates, the Council voted unanimously yesterday to lift them. This was done under a 1952 federal law which leaves the question to local governments.

About two hours later, Rep. Karl C. King (R-Pa.) was notified that federal authorities had classified the city as a critical defense area—and rent controls were to be restored.

We've Heard Enough Of Expense Funds; Real Issues Need Debate

WE agree with Sen. Fulbright that far too much attention is being directed to the expense accounts and the financial background of the presidential candidates and not enough to the real issues of the campaign.

There has been nothing that has developed in the present campaign to give any indication that the candidates—Stevenson and Sparkman on the Democratic side, Eisenhower and Nixon on the Republican side—are dishonest politicians. On the contrary, their own backgrounds are well enough known to indicate that they are men of integrity.

One of the real issues of this campaign concerns corruption in government, it is true, and as such it is proper that some attention be devoted to how these men have conducted their own financial affairs. But it can be overdone and it is being overdone in this election campaign.

This Is Glorious Season For U. P.

THIS is the Upper Peninsula's most glorious season. The brilliant colors of the fall forest foliage are an annual spectacle that defies description and it is one of the things that Upper Peninsula natives greatly miss when they move to other regions.

Our summer tourist season attracts the most visitors and brings in the most tourist dollars. Of course, we do have plenty to offer our summer guests. Delightful climate, beautiful scenery, friendly hospitality and excellent fishing.

But our fall season is by far the most glorious. It is unfortunate that the thousands of persons who visit us in the summer cannot return in the fall to witness the panorama of nature's changing colors as the forests prepare for the approaching winter. Many people do make the Upper Peninsula color tours in October but school classes and the demands of industry preclude a general exodus from the cities. As a result we have this expanse of loveliness pretty much to ourselves.

Oct. 6 Is Last Day to Register

YOU have less than one week in which to register for the Nov. 4 election if you are not already a qualified elector.

The deadline for registration for the general election is Monday, October 6. If you have voted within the past two years, you need not worry about this problem because you are properly registered and qualified to vote in November. But if you have not voted within two years or if you only recently attained the age of 21, you had better check on your registration.

An effort is being made nationally to bring out the largest vote in the nation's history on Nov. 4. America's voting record is a lamentable one, with usually only about half of the nation's electors actually casting ballots on election day. This is in contrast to the voting record of other countries where generally more than 90% of the electors vote.

Check up on your registration now—while you still have time. And if you are not registered, be sure to do so before Oct. 6.

The way the campaigning is shaping up, it sounds like Truman and Stevenson against Eisenhower and Taft. People may forget who the vice presidential candidates are before one can be elected.

The Doctor Says . . . Attacks of Rheumatic Fever May Follow Throat Infections

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

For many years rheumatic fever has been one of the principal causes of heart disease. Although it is too soon to say that rheumatic fever has been conquered, great forward steps have taken place in the last few years.

One of these advances is in the field of prevention of attacks. Many attacks of rheumatic fever follow infections of the upper breathing passageways or throat, with germs called streptococci.

For this reason, it has been suspected for many years that if some method could be developed for stopping these streptococcal infections it might be possible to forestall at least some of the attacks of rheumatic fever.

This has been found to be true. The discovery of the sulpha drugs and the antibiotics, including penicillin, has provided powerful new weapons against the streptococcus.

Many of these preparations have now been tried in various combinations and doses in places where both streptococcal infections and rheumatic fever were particularly bad. The results are most encouraging.

For those who have had one attack of rheumatic fever, or who are particularly vulnerable, these preparations lessen the risk of further attacks and the danger of developing serious heart disease.

The other hopeful development lies in the discovery of and work now being done on cortisone and ACTH, both of which have been discussed in this column.

There seems little doubt that either of these substances, if given to a person suffering from active rheumatic fever, will bring a rather quick and remarkable improvement in most of the symptoms—joint swelling, pain and fever.

It is not known yet, however, whether they will prevent the development of heart disease, because this can be found out only after a long period of observation.

EARLY DIAGNOSIS VITAL

Of course, there are also many things to find out about how much of them to give, when is the best time to give them, about possible undesirable side effects and other problems. But even what is known now gives hope that both prevention and improved treatment of rheumatic fever are really here.

In order to get the most out of the advancing knowledge parents should remember that early diagnosis is important. Symptoms which are suspicious in either children or grownups should not be ignored, lost serious heart disease develop which might have been avoided.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — General Eisenhower commented ruefully on how easily the public changes its mind and cracked a joke about southern prejudice and the Pope at his private luncheon with Maryland's Governor Theodore "The Mouth" McKeldin.

The two men and their wives were served behind the guarded doors of Eisenhower's private car, which comes equipped with its own kitchen and a special chef to cater to the general's tastes.

As the campaign train clickety-clacked across Maryland, Ike got to musing about his evangelical running mate, Senator Dick Nixon. The general remarked that public opinion on Nixon had reversed overnight, and drew a comparison with the late General George Patton. Ike recalled that Patton had been a national hero after he slapped a hospitalized G. I., then overnight became a national hero as he drove spectacularly through Germany.

"And both of them had tears in their eyes when I met them," said Eisenhower. This reminded McKeldin of a man who had been bitterly opposed to Patton until he learned that old "Blood and Guts" was a Virginian. After that the Virginian became a Patton rooster.

"That reminds me," said the general, still munching on an after-dinner apple, about a confused Virginian who had been listening to anti-Catholic propaganda against Al Smith the 1928 campaign. "I'm going to vote against this fellow Smith," argued the Virginian, "to keep Mr. Pope from running the country."

"But," argued a Democratic politician, "Mr. Pope is married to a lady from Virginia."

"Oh, well, then, that's different," replied the southerner.

Note: Mamie Eisenhower had little to say during the luncheon, except to comment that they were both having a good time but were in bad need of a rest.

HARMONY TALK

The Eisenhower-Nixon talk was an extremely healthy thing from the point of view of Republican harmony, because signs of bad blood had been developing between the two top GOP running-mates.

Newspapermen covering the Nixon trip either ignored it or played the story down. However, Nixon's aides were boiling at Eisenhower for even entertaining the thought that he be dropped from the ticket. That was why Nixon deliberately ignored the general's telegram requesting him to see him "at once."

Instead, the potential next vice-president of the United States flew not to the Eisenhower train but to Missoula, Mont. And when newsmen queried the Nixon entourage in Los Angeles as to why he wasn't going to see Ike immediately, Nixon's press secretary James Bassett bluntly replied: "We are going to Montana."

Nixon's strategy was first to show that he was not a boy candidate to be pushed around; second, to let public sentiment build up in favor of keeping him on the ticket.

Furthermore, it was no accident that Nixon asked his listeners to send telegrams to the Republican National Committee, not to the general. He knew its members, most of them professionals, would be much more sympathetic. Also Nixon's staff made it all too clear to the newspapermen around them that they bitterly resented the general's telegram from Cleveland that "my personal decision will be based on a personal conclusion."

PERSONAL MEETING

Press Secretary Bassett has been one of the most zealous Nixon aides, and was one of those who virtually took the telephone away from his chief in Portland, Ore., to tell Senator Seaton of Nebraska aboard the Eisenhower train that Ike advisers should get some backbone. This was why Bassett was brought into the picture when the two candidates finally met at Wheeling.

Originally it was arranged for Eisenhower and Nixon to meet in rooms 782 and 784 in Wheeling's McClure hotel. Mrs. Eisenhower and her elderly mother, Mrs. Dowd, were down the hall in rooms 790 and 792, while the security guard was in room 780 next to the general. However, when the two candidates learned of the crowds outside the hotel, the two men went to the special train instead.

Edson Tells How Senator Nixon Gave Him The Famous Fund Story

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON—(NEA)—It often happens that, when a reporter is not able to trace down rumors to their source and effectually dispose of them one way or another, a direct inquiry to "headquarters" may bring out a reply, and the truth.

That is all that happened in connection with the story which Republican Vice-Presidential Candidate Richard Nixon authorized me to publish last week regarding a fund of some $17,000 which had been raised by a committee in Southern California, to help pay Nixon's political expenses.

As related by Nixon in his television and radio broadcast Tuesday night, I asked him about rumors of such a fund Sunday night, Sept. 14, after I had appeared with him on another television program. His answer, as the Senator reported to the entire country, was that "there was no secret about it." And, as he said over the air, he told me Dana Smith of Pasadena was administrator of the fund, and how to reach Smith.

On Monday, Sept. 15, I telephoned Smith in Pasadena from Washington. Nixon had said, as related in my story, that he did not personally know much about the details of the fund since Smith handled it, but that Smith would tell me. He did.

I first heard the rumor around the Conrad Hilton Hotel during the Republican National Convention. It was to the effect that a group of 100 Southern California businessmen had each contributed $200 to give Nixon a supplemental salary of $20,000 per year. My first inclination was to dismiss it as just another one of those things a reporter hears, but I asked a number of California correspondents about it. They said they had never heard of such a fund.

Among the newsmen I talked to about it was Jim Bassett, now Nixon's press secretary. He was then political editor of the Los Angeles Mirror. I had known him a long time. He had covered Nixon's campaigns and knew Southern California politics. But he said he had never heard the story.

Bassett had an idea the rumor might be a confused and warped version of the activities of the Southland Committee. This was a group of Republicans who raised money to support various political candidates during their campaigns.

Back in Washington, after the Democratic Convention, I found awaiting me a letter from a California editor which commended to my attention this young California Senator whom he knew well.

I wrote for more information about Nixon and mentioned the rumor that had been prevalent in Chicago. A very full letter about Nixon's rise was received in reply. It told about a "fact-finding" committee which had scouted the district to find a candidate for Congress, and how they had finally picked young Dick Nixon.

"It was never a group of 100 businessmen" who would rule or ruin," the letter said. I wrote to other California editors during August and got no more information. I asked other

NIXON AND EDSON: He answered without hesitation.

California newspaper men and other Californians about it. One of them called to my attention an organization known as "Republican Associates." But this turned out to be a group of California employers who were conducting a mail campaign among their employees in support of Republican political candidates. So this wasn't it.

All this time, Nixon was on the road, campaigning. There was no chance to put the question directly to him. Then I noted that the Senator was to return to Washington after his New England trip and decided to make a point of seeing him personally. By this time I had become convinced there was nothing to it.

Meantime, I was asked to be on the panel of four reporters questioning Nixon on "Meet the Press."

I had no chance to question him before the program went on the air. And I couldn't very well ask him publicly if he was accepting a second salary when I had nothing that confirmed the rumor. So I had to wait until after the show to ask any questions.

I then told him that this rumor was still kicking around, and asked him what there was to it. "Is that the story you asked Jim Bassett about?" he asked me with a smile. I told him it was.

Without a moment's hesitation, he then told me that the rumor as I had it was all wrong. But there was a story there, and it would be all right for me to use it. He didn't attempt to duck the question in any way.

He said, however, that he didn't have all the facts himself. There was a group of people in California who had helped him meet some of the extra expenses of running his office. The treasurer of the fund was Dana Smith of Pasadena. It would be perfectly all right for me to call him and get the details.

Nixon said he didn't know who any of the contributors were and he had made no effort to find out. They had never asked him for anything.

He never handled any of the money himself. He just sent the bills for agreed-upon expenses to California and they were paid by Smith. The Senator did caution me on two points if a fair and objective story was to be written.

The first was that he had never put his wife on the payroll, although other senators had. He wasn't criticizing the other senators. But he didn't think it was right to do that himself. His second point was that the richer senators—like Herbert Lehman of New York—could afford to meet heavy office expenses out of their own pockets and think nothing of it. He, Nixon, couldn't do that.

I asked the Senator if he did not think it would be a good thing to get this story out in the open, so as to kill off the rumors that he was accepting a second salary for personal use? The Senator said he thought it would be a good idea.

Monday morning I reached Smith by long distance phone in Pasadena. I told him of my conversation with Nixon the night before. Again, without a moment's hesitation, Smith gave me the full story.

That was, a wire service later said, an hour or so before three other reporters Leo Katcher of the New York Post, Ernest Bransner of the Los Angeles Daily News and Richard Donovan of The Reporter Magazine—walked into Smith's office and were given the story.

My NEA column goes out to clients by mail. I sent the Nixon piece to New York, where it was processed and airmailed Tuesday, for release Thursday, Sept. 18.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

WHY NOT NOW?—The thought is not original with me—but why don't they conduct a drive for funds to fight polio while the polio epidemic is under way?

The response would be most generous at a time when public attention is directed almost daily to the names of new cases in the community.

Traditionally held in January in connection with the birthday anniversary of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, the polio fund campaign then comes when incidence of the disease is at its lowest ebb.

While there is every reason to honor the memory of the late President for his good work in helping the victims of polio, there is the more important task of raising a record total in funds to care for the victims of the 1952 epidemic.

A drive now would have "punch" and profit. By January the urgency of the need will have to be recalled—and it will be far less effective in opening the public purse strings.

Note: Alternative advocated by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is a late-summer "emergency" drive. The two-drives-a-year plan is frowned on by most local chapters.

TEACHERS WERE THERE—In a recent column item we commented that perhaps teachers should attend the University of Michigan extension service lecture series on "How to Live With Your Children—And Like It!"

Approximately one-half of the persons enrolled in the lecture and discussion course are teachers, we have since learned. This is reported to assure the teachers (who ignored the error) that they have friends who immediately came to their defense.

The series is proving most popular in five Upper Peninsula communities. In this area they are held Thursdays at 7:30 p. m. in Gladstone Senior High School.

HOW IT WORKS—Almost five million people in 214 cities and towns in the United States are now adding fluoride to their water supply to reduce dental decay among children.

Escanaba is contemplating such a step when the new water plant is completed at Sand Point. Just how effective is fluoridation? The Michigan Department of Health reports on that score as follows:

"Seven years experience with a controlled study of fluoride supplementation in Grand Rapids has impressed the Michigan Department of Health with the value of this procedure.

"Analysis of the most recent data from this study reveals a greatly reduced dental decay attack rate both in the primary and permanent teeth of the children of Grand Rapids consuming the fluoride supplemented water since January, 1945, when the study was initiated.

"Reduction as high as 53 per cent in the primary dentition and 66 per cent in the permanent teeth of six year olds have been obtained. Some benefit in decreasing amount has accrued to children examined in the older age groups."

Convinced that fluoridation is desirable from the standpoint of dental health, the Department adds:

"The local dental and medical professions should be included in all discussions and their approval is desirable before applying for permission to fluoridate."

Note: The Delta County Dental Society is already on record endorsing fluoridation to the Escanaba City Council.

AROUND THE WORLD—Quite by chance so far in this column we have touched on the welfare of children in one fashion or another—their training, defense against polio, and control of tooth decay.

This is the opportune time, therefore, to repeat an appeal for a group of children in South Korea—orphans of war as Pvt. Kenny Beaudoin calls them. Pvt. Beaudoin, whose home is in Escanaba, is now serving with the U. S. Army in Korea.

He has issued an appeal for clothing, shoes, soap and towel for the youngsters who will be guests of Pvt. Beaudoin's outfit at a Christmas party.

If there is room in the package, a toy or bit of candy will be welcomed. Mail your packages before Oct. 15 to:

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

Try these words on a friend. Here is the way they are pronounced, with each initial "i" short—i-NOK-yu-us, i-NOK-shus, in-yu-EN-doh.

The problem is, should the initial "i" be followed by one "n" or two, or which one differs from the other two, if there is a difference. Also, should the first word be spelled with one "c" or two? Then how about the second?

When you have him completely befuddled, you can announce calmly that each of the three have two "n"s that the first has but one "c," and the second is spelled with an "x." Thus, innocuous, innoxious, and innuendo.

The first two are closely related. Each is derived from Latin in, not, and nocere, to harm or injure. Thus each means "not harmful; producing no mischievous or evil effects," and the two are used interchangeably to some extent. In fact, innoxious is tending to disappear from use. But because innoxious is used almost exclusively of things that are injurious to health, such as "noxious vapors, noxious poisons," its opposite, innocuous, when used, generally relates to things that are not injurious to health, such as "innocuous drugs, innocuous gases."

Some people have tried to reserve the older word, innocuous, for things not harmful to morals, such as "innocuous pleasure, innocuous friendships, innocuous literature." But that distinction has been hard to maintain, because one of the earliest uses of the word applied it to a division of snakes, the Innocua, which, having no poison glands, are harmless. Consequently, innocuous may apply to morals, to persons, to animals, or to things.

Judy Holliday Is Not So Dumb

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—I am just a little weary, and maybe you are too, of all the coy disclaimers of Communist affiliates on the grounds of either ignorance or stupidity. Down in Washington the other day a babe who plays dumb dolls, Miss Judy Holliday, took the act into the Senate and shrugged off her record of footie-footie with organized Commie fronts. She just rolled them big dumb—like a ferret—blue eyes and said she was too irresponsible for words and a bit more than slightly stupid. She didn't know what she was mixed up in, she said.

From what I hear of Miss Holliday she was a brain one point snappier than a bear trap, and she has been a long time around a racket in which shrewdness is placed before either beauty or talent. She kept turning up on those old fronts year after year, though, and now she pleads dumb. Stupid. Giddy. Nuts.

I wouldn't say that the wishful pinks like Judy do a great deal of harm, because their espousal of anything is largely a waste of everything but words. They get up there on the rostrum at the rallies and shove out their chest measurements and holler about the common man and damn the dirty bosses and then everybody goes home and gets loaded. It makes a few sticks of type in the press and gives the ruckus-makers a sense of importance for a day or so. It gives them a sense of nobility in the mind.

Pray For Forgiveness
It gives me a pain in the frances. A more severe pain occurs when their selfless deliverance to the cause of the multitudes suddenly gets in front of their earning capacity, and they begin to squeal and pray for forgiveness. It seems to me the papers have been loaded for years with backslid "liberals." I guess they're called — ex-commies, ex-semi-commies, ex-demi-semi-almost-near-bout - commies, and the friends of friends of friends. So long's the money comes steady they are liberal. Chop off the money and turn off the heat and water down the box office, and they are all suddenly deep-dyed Republicans who had an unfortunate lapse of memory. They beat the soapbox into stock shares, and holler that they been framed.

Nobody is really stupid enough to keep playing sucker for committee come-ons, whether they are fascist, communist, or just plain dull. A man in his right mind, even his dumb right mind, joins nothing he can avoid unless it is to make money or a point. The fascination for being a "sponsor" on a letterhead, is an American peculiarity of which the reasoning has always escaped me.

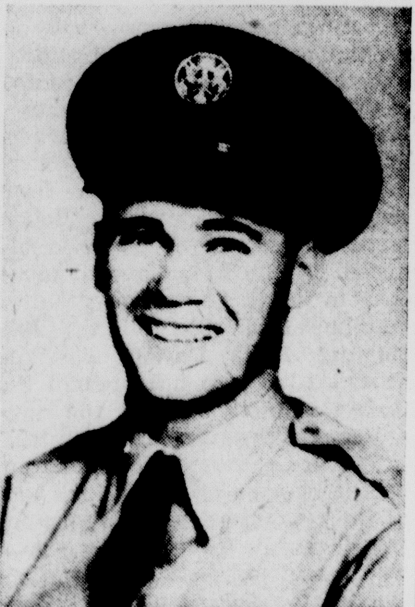

Ruark at U. N. C.
I can see a callow kid getting hooked on one, or maybe two phony committees, then recognizing the light and bowing out with bad words. But a lengthy record of one false front after another argues that the agitator has some skinny inkling of what he's about. In an answer to all the backslid Marxians who scream that they grew up at a time when communism presented a certain nobility of mind and a subtle attraction as the savior of the world, I offer one hard fact. I went to the University of North Carolina from 1931 to 1935. That was the greatest broad period of desperate depression. That was the period at which communism as a fad in this country thrived most heartily. That was strictly a bum time.

At no time was I tempted to be a Communist, although U. N. C. was radder than Santa Claus's drawers. Very few of the people I knew on the campus—especially the ones with shaves and clean shirts—embraced communism, or any offshoot of same. Some, a few dabbled. They mostly dropped it fast. But the majority scorned mass rule of anything, and are suitably equipped with mortgages and suburban homes today.

This was the period of great temptation, and of great justification for straying. This was when communism looked better and smelled cleaner than ever before or since. But the majority of the kids—young, dumb, unsophisticated country kids—spurned it. And in the face of organized blandishment, too.

Which is why I got no time for the fashionable ex-pinks who now hit the sawdust trail and holler for forgiveness, pleading ignorance on the way. It isn't that they didn't know it was loaded. This Gal Jean Peters Spurns Sexy Buildup

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—No kidding, boss, this gal Jean Peters actually turned down a buildup as a sexy dish. What's more, she added that sex has been overdone in Hollywood.

How do you figure a gal like that, boss? She's trying to go against the trend. Let me tell you how it all happened.

This gal Peters was assigned to do the role of a brainless B-girl in "Blaze of Glory." That's the role Shelley Winters couldn't do on account of she was pregnant and Betty Grable wouldn't do on account of she wants to remain the happiness girl in films. Grable got a suspension.

Back To Bluejeans
Well, this guy guided me across the movie lot to see Jean Peters. This guy—I think he was from the publicity department—spoke hopefully that the role was changing the whole course of Jean's career. From now on, she was going to be a slinky, sexy siren. She looked the part, being decked out in a low-cut, form-fitting dress. "I've got news for you," informed the one-time Ohio State coach. "As soon as this picture is over, I'm going right back to blue jeans."

This guy—I'm pretty sure he was from publicity—looked crushed. Jean tried to soothe his feelings by explaining.

"Look," she said, "so I'm doing a role of a sexy dish. That doesn't mean I have to assume the part in real life. I'm not the type. I don't go in for tight skirts; I like sport clothes and suits. And I don't think I should be expected to change my life just because I'm playing a role. An actress shouldn't be expected to."

Theme Overworked
"Besides, I think sex has been overworked by Hollywood. Take bosoms, for example. They have been so over-exploited that nobody even notices them much any more. Years ago, Lana Turner was a sensation when she wore a sweater. Nowadays, people see a girl in a sweater and they say, 'So what? So she's cold.' "I agree that sex is a fascinating subject for conversation. But it isn't everything. It's the goal of every woman to be attractive to men, but she can't do it only with a face and figure. She must have other qualities."

Jean said she didn't at all mind taking a role which had been nixed by two other gals for varying reasons.

"As a matter of fact, I found out about the part from one of my spies long ago," she reported. "I went to the producer and made a pitch to play it. But I was told I wasn't the type. Then Shelley Winters was cast in it. "After she dropped out, I made another pitch. This time I was given the script and allowed to try out for it. Then Grable was given the role, so I gave it up. But she turned it down and I got it after all."

Jean turned down suggestions to bleach her hair for the role. The reason was that she didn't want to evoke comparison to the two blondies who were originally cast.

"I've also developed my own walk for the part," she added. "Ordinarily I have a stride that could cover two country miles in half an hour. But I've worked out a sexy shuffle in the picture."

The new Peters walk has evoked the interest of her friend, Marilyn Monroe, who visited the set and warned, "if you steal anything from me, I'll sue."

"Don't worry; this is all mine," assured Jean.

50-Nation Meet Called Peace Aid

WASHINGTON—Such gatherings as the recent seventeenth International Geographical Congress substantially serve the cause of world peace, in the opinion of a delegate from Turkey, Dr. Cemal Arif Alagoz of Ankara University, presiding officer of the Congress Section on Teaching of Geography.

"Scientific men and women from more than fifty nations worked together in harmony, grew to understand each other, exchanged ideas," said Dr. Alagoz. "Above all, we came to like and respect each other, and to sympathize with our neighbors' problems. If ever there should be disputes between our respective countries, every one of us who spent this glorious week in Washington can be trusted to raise a strong voice for peace in his own land."

One of the good things about the Congress, Dr. Alagoz continued, was the opportunity it afforded for arranging mutual visits. For example, the Turkish geographer was able to secure permission for a group of his students to do field work in Spain. In return, Spanish students will go to Turkey.

Many Papers Published
A major work of the International Congress was the publication of more than 300 learned papers, most of which were read and discussed by the several hundred in attendance. The interim commissions which will carry on the work of the Congress until it meets again were selected and instructed.

A number of the delegates were asked to make recordings for the Department of State's Voice of America broadcasts to their native countries.

In one recording Dr. Alagoz informed his compatriots that never before had there been assembled in one place a richer collection of maps, documents, and other geographic aids from many foreign areas.

Personal Contacts Vital
"Also of great importance," he said "were the personal contacts between professional geographers and the social and intellectual circles of Washington."

"Since geography is the science of reality, such personal contacts relate us all to the friendly and cordial city which was our host."

"For example, for us to hear from his very lips the experience of more than fifty years' duration of such a leader as Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, president of the National Geographic Society, was a great privilege, the more so since both love."

I had the pleasure of welcoming him to my own University of Ankara in the lovely new capital of Turkey where both Dr. Grosvenor and I were born and which we both love."

Hunting Season Opens Tomorrow

Pre-season estimates indicate that a peak bag of water fowl and upland game will be brought down by hunters in the season which opens tomorrow.

Ruffed grouse, rabbits, hares and woodcock become fair game in the U. P. at 6 a. m. tomorrow. Ducks and geese reach their 1952 deadline at 12 noon.

Also opening tomorrow is the bow and arrow season for deer. In all counties except Chippewa and Menominee either sex may be taken with the bow and arrow. In the two expected counties hunters may shoot ducks only.

The bow and arrow season will extend through Nov. 5. Archers who do not get their deer during the bow and arrow season may purchase a regular firearm hunting license during the regular season. If they fill their license during the earlier season, however, they are not able to hunt with a rifle.

Hunters will enjoy liberalized regulations to permit more hunting and more plentiful supplies of game than last year.

The grouse season has been extended to run through Nov. 10, an extension of 20 days. The sharptail and prairie chicken season has been extended through Nov. 10. Rabbits may be hunted through March 1, 1953, this season.

Gustave Dittrich Of Hyde Dies, Funeral Thursday

Gustave Adolf Dittrich, 80, a resident of the Hyde community since 1884, died at 4:10 p. m. Monday at St. Francis Hospital. He was admitted to the hospital two days ago.

Mr. Dittrich was born in Hinterhermsdorf, Saxony, Germany, March 18, 1872. Until his health failed he engaged in farming at Hyde.

He was a member of St. Paul's Ev. Lutheran Church.

Surviving are his wife, Anna, one sister, Mrs. C. C. Impey of Oakland, Calif., and two brothers, Emil of Ford River and Charles A., Escanaba.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Anderson Funeral Home chapel with the Rev. Walter Henning, pastor of St. Paul's, officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery. Friends of the family may call at the funeral home beginning Wednesday afternoon.

Stalin's Big Goal Is To Equal U. S. In Industrial Strength

By RICHARD O'REGAN
VIENNA (AP)—Stalin's world Communist agents have been making it clear what Russia's apparent aims are for the next 10 or 20 years.

Provided there isn't any war, Stalin wants to build up Russia's industrial strength so it finally exceeds that of the United States. After that, it would be a Russian-dominated world whether the U. S. likes it or not.

Has Anyone Seen A Flying Football?

Now it's flying footballs—on poles.

John Zawada of Schaffer, former U. S. Army pilot, and his father, Leo Zawada, were drilling a well near the Jaeger Road, a half mile west on M-35, yesterday afternoon at 5:20 when they sighted a strange object about 500 feet in the air, travelling at a speed of about 100 mph.

"The object had a shaft about eight feet on one end and a shaft of about six feet on the other end," Zawada reported. "In the center was a grayish white oval that looked like a football. The object was streaking through the sky at a high rate of speed. There was no noise from the object as it passed over us, headed northerly."

Zawada reported the object should have passed over Escanaba in the vicinity of Memory Lane and inquired whether anyone else may have seen the flying football.

Reds Infiltrate Every Agency Of U. S. Government

E. Summerfield said Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, former Republican congresswoman from Connecticut, will speak over a network of 65 TV and 189 radio stations.

After the deposition hearing ended, Gen. Smith first asked that all his remarks be kept off the record. When told they already had been made public, he issued a statement which said in part:

"Any intelligence agency that did not act on the assumption that it had been penetrated somewhere along the line from charwomen to its executive level would be criminally negligent and we would be criminally negligent if we did not act on that assumption."

Precautions Increased
"This is, of course, no reflection on the loyalty of the overwhelming number of persons employed in our security agencies."

"That is why we take so many precautions to guard against penetration at every point."

"One of the elementary precautions taken by intelligence agencies the world over, of course, is the elaborate compartmentalization of work so that individuals below the very top level are unable to obtain the whole picture even though they do work their way in and get a part of it."

"We have to assume that our enemies are as clever as we are and that they will succeed from time to time."

Gen. Smith was summoned to the deposition hearing by Sen. Benton (D-Conn.), who wanted him to testify about a speech Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) made in the Senate last year attacking the record of Gen. George C. Marshall, wartime Army chief of staff and later secretary of state.

Marshall Defended
McCarthy said in that speech Marshall was "steeped in falsehood" and described him as a "mysterious, powerful figure" who sided with Russia in historic decisions which "lost the peace for America."

Gen. Smith vigorously defended Marshall, saying:

"Of all the men I've known and in the last 10 or 15 years I've known most of the great men of the world, I know of none who excelled and few who equal George Marshall for loyalty, honesty and integrity."

He also said he believed two other comments McCarthy made in his speech—read to him by Benton's attorney—were incorrect.

One said the Marshall Plan helped the Kremlin because it was substituted for a plan of direct military aid. The other said the Marshall Plan caused the United States to be considered a "paty" in Europe, and held in contempt there.

Smith said on the contrary the Marshall Plan was considered a "stroke of genius" in Europe.

Buckskin Suit Ad i Boards Truman Train

Aboard Truman Train (AP)—Adlai Stevenson boarded President Truman's campaign special for a moment at Stanley, N.D.

He was dressed as usual—in a beaded buckskin suit and headdress of feathers.

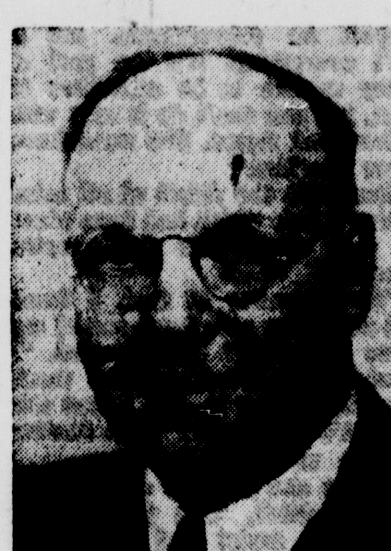

Adlai is an Indian, a one-time scout for the Gros Ventre tribe. He's believed to be somewhere between 81 and 86 years old. He supposedly got his English language name when the grandfather of the present Democratic candidate for President, also named Adlai Stevenson, was vice president under Grover Cleveland.

Criminal Elements Cut Baku Oil Output

Moscow (AP)—A top Communist official in Soviet Azerbaijan has reported the oil industry in his area failed to meet its production quota during the past eight months largely because criminal elements infiltrated into the big Southern Baku oil fields.

In a report to the Azerbaijan Party Congress, first Secretary M. D. Bagirov said the criminal elements had been cleaned out now and the oil fields would be able to catch up in time to meet the full year's quota.

Church Leaders Plan Meetings

Dr. Charles T. Holman

Upper Peninsula Protestant church leaders are inaugurating a new approach to cooperative effort. Under the joint auspices of the Michigan Council of Churches, the United Church of Christ, and local councils of churches and ministerial associations, five one-day Christian workers conferences will be held covering every section of the state.

In past years one conference only has been held, but in adopting the strategy of bringing the leadership to every part of the Upper Peninsula it is felt a greater service will be rendered. Leaders from many parts of Michigan will arrive October 6 at the First Presbyterian Church, Escanaba, for the opening conference. Operating in two teams, they will proceed to Ironwood, Oct. 7; Calumet, Oct. 8; Marquette, Oct. 9, and Sault Ste. Marie, Oct. 10.

Among the outstanding leaders conducting the conference are Dr. Charles T. Holman, author, professor and authority on counseling and church organization; Mrs. Mary Weaver, consultant for the Division of Education of the Department of Mental Health, State of Michigan; and Miss Wanda Brown, Associate Director of Christian Education of the Michigan Synod, Presbyterian Church, USA.

Among the Upper Peninsula leaders on the program are Miss Harriet Palmer, Director of Christian Education for the Methodist Marquette district; Rev. Herbert Ingraham, minister of the First Methodist Church, Ironwood; and Mrs. Luther Gant, vice-president of the United Church Women of Michigan with residence in Marquette.

Menominee Dealer In Court For Buying Ungraded Beef Cuts

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Michael J. Trautner of Menominee, doing business as Trautner's Market, pleaded guilty in Federal court here Monday to a charge of purchasing ungraded beef in violation of OPS regulations.

According to U. S. district Attorney Joseph F. Deeb, Trautner was one of several persons who purchased meat from an unregistered slaughterer in Wisconsin. The slaughterer awaits sentence in Wisconsin for selling meat from diseased cattle, Deeb said.

Judge Raymond W. Starr ordered Trautner to appear for sentence Oct. 21.

Atlantic Ships Hunt 80 From Sunken Boat

ROTTERDAM, The Netherlands (AP)—American and French ships searched the Atlantic Ocean east of the Azores today, looking for 80 persons missing from the Portuguese fishing vessel Joao Costa, which sank last week.

A radio message received here said the American freighter Compass, out of New York, picked up 12 survivors yesterday and was continuing the search for others. A French ship and the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Coos Bay also were combing the area.

Tooth Of Mammoth

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Jerry White, 14, pulled a foot-long tooth from a mudbank in Plaster Creek, where he was playing with friends. Jerry took his find to Director Frank Dummond of the city's public museum, and Dummond said it probably belonged to a mammoth elephant that roamed Michigan 20,000 years ago. "I thought it was just a stone," said the amazed boy.

One Body Missing

MONROE (AP)—Only one of four persons who disappeared on Lake Erie Sept. 20 now is unaccounted for. The body of Mrs. Garda Kronbach, wife of the owner of the foursome's 14-foot boat, was recovered Monday. Two other bodies were recovered earlier. Robert Bliss, 27, still is sought.

Fish Catch Up

LANSING (AP)—The commercial fish catch from Michigan Great Lakes waters in the first half of the year was up 21 per cent over the same time last year, the Conservation Department reported today.

McCarthy Checks Up On Stevenson; Promises Report

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wisc) said last night he had conducted research on Gov. Adlai Stevenson and would present his findings soon in a nationwide radio broadcast.

"If after they hear that picture, the American people want Governor Stevenson, they can have him," McCarthy said on the CBS television program, "Chronoscope."

"I don't think they'll want him," he added.

He didn't give the date of the program concerning Stevenson, the Illinois governor and Democratic nominee for President. But he said it would be before the November election.

British Publisher, Lord Astor, Dies at 73

CLIVEDEN, England (AP)—Viscount Astor, prominent British publisher and sportsman and husband of Virginia-born Lady Nancy Astor, died today. He was 73.

Lord Astor, who was born in New York City, long had been a leader in British social and political life, along with his wife.

His death followed a long illness.

Unable, because of his title, to hold a seat in the House of Commons, Lord Astor sponsored his wife's political career and helped her to become the first woman ever elected to the lower parliamentary chamber.

He was the chairman for the influential Sunday newspaper, The Observer.

California Traffic Deaths 3 600 Yearly

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—California's yearly traffic accident toll "makes the figures in Korea insignificant," Gov. Earl Warren said yesterday.

He noted at a meeting of State Department heads that the yearly deaths are running about 3,600 and the injuries at 100,000.

New Geologist

LANSING (AP)—William L. Daoust, head of the oil and gas section of Conservation Department geology division, will become acting state geologist Oct. 15. He succeeds state geologist Frank Pardee who is leaving to become president of the Lake Superior Iron Ore Association.

Wall Street

By RADER WINGET
NEW YORK (AP)—Weakness in the railroad division today proved to be deciding factor in tipping the stock market lower.

The rails sagged as much as 2 points at the outside. Losses elsewhere in the list rarely extended beyond major fractions.

At the same time there was plenty of upside encouragement.

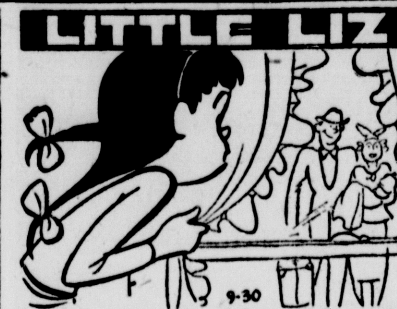

Steels and motors held up well. Budd Co. was active and up a fraction after starting on a block of 3,500 share up 1/4 at 14 1/2. Abbott Lab gained around a point at times and enjoyed flurries of buying.

Texas Pacific Land Trust was up around 2 at times but held to the top rung with difficulty.

Trading was moderately active at the opening with prices mixed. The sell off in the railroads commenced in the second hour and the entire market softened in concert.

Lower stocks included Santa Fe, Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, Standard Oil N. J., International Telephone, General Electric, General Motors, and Radio Corp.

Higher were Southern Railway, Allied Chemical, Servel, Republic Steel, Chrysler, Studebaker, and Schenley Industries.

It's tough when the children get married and move away, but it can be a lot tougher when they don't.

MORECAMBE, England (AP)—Aneurin Bevan's left wingers won new power in British socialism today.

They gained two more seats on the Labor party's key National Executive Committee and ousted the party's No. 2 old guard leader, former Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison, from the group.

Results announced today from secret balloting gave the Bevan forces six of the seven seats allotted on the 27-member Executive to local Labor party units. Onetime Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Dalton was the other Attlee man unseated in the test of strength between the Bevanites and the party's moderates.

The Attlee forces still counted on the backing of most of the rest of the committee, but the vote for the local, or constituency, seats was considered an accurate reflection of the feeling among socialism's rank and file members and a clear indication of the fiery Welshman's growing strength in his fight to wrest the party leadership from Attlee and Morrison.

Loud Speaker Named London's Lord Mayor

LONDON (AP)—Wealthy Sir Rupert de la Bere is London's new lord mayor, regarded by many as the most stately municipal official in the world.

Sir Rupert, 59, was elected by the County Council yesterday for a one-year term. He succeeds Sir Leslie Boyce.

The new mayor is a Conservative member of Parliament and has the curious reputation of having the loudest voice in the House of Commons.

Now Is a Good Time to Stock Up On Canned Goods

Right now is a good time to find especially good buys in canned fruits and vegetables, says Mary Bodwell, food economist for the agricultural economics department at Michigan State College.

September and October is usually the time when processors and distributors are beginning to sell their new fruit and vegetable packs. The retailer must clear his shelves to handle the new pack and feature fall sales of canned foods. Many families who have dry and relatively cool storage place plan to lay in a considerable part of their fall and winter canned food requirements.

Read the Labels
Costs of many canned food items are a little higher than a year ago but there are many good bargains among them—to find these bargains the food shopper must learn to read the labels and know what is in the can. The law requires that all labels must indicate the name of the product, the name and address of the processor or distributor and the net contents. If the product is a mixture, all the ingredients must be listed on the label.

The label on canned fruits and vegetables must also indicate the style of pack, the variety when that is important and if syrup is used, the sweetness of the syrup. Other information can appear on the label which will prove helpful. Such items as the number of cups of food, the number of servings and methods of preparation may also be found on the label and be a guide to buying.

Use Has Increased
The 1952 pack of canned fruits is expected to be about 10 per cent smaller than last year's pack but because of the carry-over from the 1951 pack the total volume of available supplies of canned fruit will about be equal to last year. The volume of canned vegetables will also be about equal to last year.

Despite increases in the use of frozen fruits and vegetables, the use of canned fruits and vegetables has steadily increased. We are now using 1 to 20 pounds of canned fruits, 15 to 18 pounds of canned fruit juices and 35 to 40 pounds of canned vegetables per person each year, says Miss Bodwell.

Mary L. Franklin Of Trenary Bride Of Ronald Trudell

Miss Mary Lou Franklin, daughter of Mrs. Viola Franklin of Trenary, and Ronald Trudell, also of Trenary, spoke their marriage vows in a ceremony performed by Father Edward Mikulich at 10 a. m. Saturday, Sept. 27, in the rectory of St. Rita's Church, Trenary. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trudell.

The bride's gown of white satin was ballerina length with a white nylon net overskirt and a brief bolero, and her hair was Chantilly lace. She wore a three strand pearl necklace, as her jewelry, and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink rosebuds and white mums and carnations with white satin shower ribbons.

Blue Nylon Gown
Miss Grace Johnson, who was maid of honor, wore pleated blue nylon and a matching headress and she carried yellow rosebuds and yellow mums and pompons.

Howard Ouellette was Mr. Trudell's best man.

Mrs. Franklin chose a brown two piece crepe dress with brown accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was yellow rosebuds and yellow mums. The bridegroom's mother wore navy blue crepe with black accessories and a red rosebud and white mum corsage.

The wedding breakfast for immediate family members was followed by a reception for 150 guests from 2 to 5 at the parish hall. Centering the bridal table was a five-tiered wedding cake with a miniature bridal couple ornament. Bouquets of mixed gladiolus and mums decorated the hall.

Home in Trenary
The newlyweds will live in Trenary where the bridegroom is employed by the Trenary Home Bakery.

The wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Emory Juneau of Escanaba, William Juneau, Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Poquette, Spalding, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hoy and Tommy, Traunik, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nelson, Cornell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles June and Marvin, Munising, Mrs. Vangie June and Raymond, Marquette.

Representative Citizens To Be Honored Tonight

Manistique's observance of the 500th anniversary of the printing of the Gutenberg Bible will be held at the high school auditorium this evening at eight o'clock.

Like thousands of other observances held throughout the country at that time, emphasis will be placed on the new standard revised version of the Holy Bible that has only recently come into use. The New Testament version has been in use for a number of years, but the Old Testament revision has only recently been completed.

At the local observance Dr. Norman A. Menter, president of the Michigan District of the American Lutheran church will deliver the address, enlarging on the theme: "The Word of Life in a Living Language."

Enhancing the services will be special music by a massed choir from the various churches in the city.

An innovation of special interest will be the presentation of the newly revised Bibles to five representative people in Manistique. Those to be honored are: Mayor Vernon Linderth; Mrs. Dorothy Shipman city school librarian; Rev. Harold Martinson, oldest pastor in point of service in Manistique; Dr. James H. Fyvie, oldest physician and surgeon in point of service and A. F. Hall, superintendent of city schools.

The service will be under the sponsorship and direction of the local ministerial association.

Country Club Plans Harvest Party Saturday

The Indian Lake Country Club will conclude its social affairs for the 1952 season with a Harvest Party on Saturday night, October 4.

A gigantic bonfire near the 9th green will be one of the evening's highlights in addition to a roast consisting of potatoes, frankfurters and marshmallows.

Old clothes will be the prescribed dress for this party, which will begin about 7:30 p. m.

Anyone having long barbecue forks are advised to bring them along.

This party is being sponsored by Emery Barnes and his "bull-gang."

The club house will be decorated under the supervision of Tony Busch.

Theft Suspect Is Bound Over

Guriydd G. Roberts, of Pittsfield, Mass., arrested Friday afternoon at Newberry and brought back to Manistique to answer a charge of stealing two cameras from the Linderth-Bradley Photo Studio, was formerly charged with grand larceny when brought before Judge Victor Deemer in justice court Monday afternoon. He was bound over to circuit court and remanded to the county jail. Bond was set at $5,000.

Find Many Guns
Roberts, when arrested was driving a 1952 Buick. Search of the car by the police brought to light fifteen guns, some cameras and other merchandise of an estimated value of $500. A search of the man's person also netted several express receipts of goods consigned to him at Torrington, Connecticut.

Record Being Checked
At a preliminary hearing at the office of William J. Sheahan, county prosecutor, Roberts volunteered the information that he had for a long time, been under treatment for kleptomania. Authorities here are corresponding with police in Massachusetts and Connecticut to further check up on the man's record.

He is wanted at several places in Wisconsin on theft charges. He has not as yet made any attempt to secure bonds for his release.

New Officers To Be In Charge of Next Regular CYO Meet
The next regular meeting of the Manistique CYO will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the parochial school hall.

The new officers elected at the last meeting will be in charge. The new officers are Francis Laurion, president; Dorothy Selling, vice president; Catherine Barker, secretary; and Jack Quinn, treasurer. The organization had been divided into teams and each week one team is in charge of the program and entertainment.

Parole Board Task Explained

An explanation of the duties of the work of the Michigan Board of Parole and a defense for that body with respect to some of the unfavorable publicity it has received since the recent Jackson prison riot, were central themes of an address given by Ross Pascoe, board secretary at the Monday noon luncheon of the Manistique Rotary club.

Pascoe, a member of the board for the past fifteen years and secretary for ten years, protested as untrue, a widely circulated claim that reluctance on the part of the board to grant paroles had caused prisoners to become so discouraged and cynical that they resorted to riot to acquaint the public with their lot.

Liberal With Paroles
The speaker claimed that contrary to such assertions, the Michigan prison parole system is one of the most liberal in the country, exceeded only by the state of New York. Every prisoner, when he begins serving sentence, is allotted a certain time when he shall become eligible for parole, the speaker said. Some prisoners are not eligible as soon as others, due to the nature of their crimes—sex perverts and habitual criminals, he said, cannot expect parole as soon as those committed for crimes of other sorts. He said that those who had brought on the riot should not be given the right to dictate what policy should govern the parole board.

Many Parole Applications
The speaker stated that in the course of a year the board has been called upon to pass upon more than six thousand parole applications. Many of these involve extensive research and many others are accompanied by high pressure tactics. Every case, he said, has been given careful and painstaking consideration.

It must be considered, however, he added, that the board exists as a service to the public and not to the prisoner. It is the board's duty to ascertain as to whether the prisoner has been rehabilitated sufficiently to warrant his release.

He declared himself as entirely out of sympathy with the proposed creation of an appeal board to pass on parole applications that have been rejected. This, he said, would be an opening wedge for political pull and pressure group favoritism; and it could lead to furthering the immunity of politically powerful gangster groups.

Lack of interest on the part of the public in general in the work of the parole board is doing, the speaker said, is one of the most serious problems the board has had to contend with. Sincere people, earnestly striving for the right as they see it, took up the cause of the psychopathic perverts who instigated the Jackson riot but utterly ignored counsel of the parole board. He cited this attitude as one of the most dangerous factors to contend with in the nation's war against crime.

The speaker was introduced by William J. Sheahan, county prosecutor.

Detroit Man Pays Fine For Carrying Gun In Game Area

Fine and costs totalling $17.50 were paid by John Diegel of Detroit in justice court Monday morning after he had pleaded guilty before Judge Victor Deemer to a charge of carrying a gun in a game area during a closed season.

Diegel was arrested in Manistique township by Conservation Officer Ernest Derwin Saturday afternoon.

Billy Hicks, of Seney township, convicted on a similar charge last Friday and held in the county jail in lieu of a fine, paid fine and Shooting Contests Held Sunday P. M.

Members of the Schoolcraft Sportsmen's Club and the Manistique Rifle and Pistol Club enjoyed an afternoon of target practice at the gun club grounds Sunday afternoon. There was target shooting with 22 calibre rifles at 25 and 50 yards and pistol matches at 25 yards. The Sportsmen's club was captained by Earl Cowman and Art Hough, headed the Rifle and Pistol club group. Refreshments were served at the close of the matches.

costs Monday morning and was released. The fine and costs amounted to $22.50.

"LIFE BEGINS AT 40"

Authorities agree that the most productive years of life lie between the ages of forty and sixty. A tribute, then, is owed to the medical and allied sciences which steadily have increased the life span. In the Middle Ages life expectancy was only 20 years; today it is about 67 years.

We are proud of our profession of pharmacy for its contributions to this gain. And we continue gladly to serve the health needs of you and your loved ones. Bring your prescriptions to us.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved mother, Mrs. Katherine Suolonen, who was called away one year ago today, September 30, 1951.

We seem to see in the soft dim light, A face we loved the best, And think of her when the sun's last ray Goes down in the far off west; We miss you no less as the time passes on.

Than we did on the day of your going, For absence can never close the door Of our hearts.

And the lamp of our love is still glowing, Your heart was the truest in all the wide world.

Your love the best to recall: For no one on earth could take your place. You are still the dearest of all.

Sadly missed by—
HER CHILDREN,
7967-274-1f

In memory of our dear wife and mother, Norma Bourdeau, who died September 30, 1951.

What would we give to clasp her hand, Her dear, kind face to see, To hear her voice, to see her smile, As in the days that used to be.

Sadly missed by
FRED BORDAU AND FAMILY,

Escanaba Grid Picture Outlined At Rote Meet

A high school football coach's praise for his boys, a report on the progress of the team so far this season, and an evaluation of football as a part of the high school program were presented at yesterday's meeting of the Escanaba Rotary Club.

Joe Milokna, the coach, and Burton Gustafson, assistant coach, were introduced by Rotarian Charles Folio, president of the Escanaba Board of Education.

"I enjoy teaching these boys," Milokna said earnestly. "Especially when you see them come through as they did Saturday night at Menominee, and as they did the week before at Ironwood."

Football And Schools

Introducing Milokna and Gustafson, Folio commented on over-emphasis of football in some high schools and colleges.

"I fear that in some communities the tail is allowed to wag the dog," Folio said. "There football is more important to the community than the school curriculum."

"Football has a place in the school program, but the community must help if it is to be given its proper perspective. We have searched for coaches who believe, as we do, that this perspective be must maintained."

The president of the Escanaba Board of Education said that "even the curbstone quarterbacks say we can be proud of our team in its recent game at Menominee."

More Than Winning

Milokna came to Escanaba from Kingsford High School where he served as local football and basketball coach. He is a native of Ironwood, a graduate of Superior State Teachers College, and received his master's degree in physical education at University of Wisconsin.

Summarizing the relationship of football to the school educational program, Folio said:

"The important thing is the boy and what he learns from football. It is not in winning games—but in training boys to become better men."

Gustafson, assistant coach, is a native of Northern Michigan, played football at Newberry High School, and at Northern Michigan College of Education, Marquette, was recognized for his outstanding personality and character as well as his record as an athlete, Folio said.

Boys Come First

With the use of a blackboard, Milokna outlined the system used by the Escanaba High School football team in its games—the wing T which "is a little bit of the split T and single wing."

"We are using plays which our experience so far this season shows will gain the most yardage," he said.

"In trying to outline this system for you I want to make it plain that it is not the system but the boys playing for you who make the system effective," Milokna added.

The split T and the parallel quarterbacking are really the "only new things since the inception of football," Milokna declared.

Advantage in their use was shown at Menominee, he said. From the split T the offensive can strike faster and it also gives an extra ball carrier in the quarterback, the Escanaba coach said.

Reviewing The Game

The team is now running more than 45 offensive plays in a pattern system designed to confuse and "foul up" the blocking assignments of the opponents, he continued.

In response to questions, Milokna said:

The weight of the Menominee and Escanaba teams was "pretty equal" with Menominee's offensive team running a little heavier. Escanaba's squad is "pretty thin" with about 25 boys out for the varsity and about 25 boys working in the junior varsity squad.

Officials did tell both teams how much time there was left in the game. (This was in response to a question whether the Escanaba team knew how many seconds were left in the last quarter.)

No Protest Considered

After every play in the last one-half minute of the Menominee-Escanaba game "there was an injured Menominee man on the ground, which the officials had to recognize and allow time for Menominee."

Menominee is "going down into the fourth and fifth grades" in teaching football. "Personally I think this is too young. The boys are not ready for it."

The number of Menominee boys out for football "is nearly double our squad," he said. "They eat, sleep and drink football down at Menominee."

Milokna said there "is some question" that the last touchdown scored by Menominee on a pass (breaking a 20-20 tie) was received beyond the end zone. "But the officials are all honest and I would not dispute them or consider a protest."

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

The flu bug had us out of commission most of last week but we snapped out of it in time to see a couple of class A grid games over the weekend. That St. Joe fracas with St. Norbert Friday night at Memorial Field was one of the roughest games on record. Even the few St. Norbert fans we saw at the game were loud in praise of the hard-hitting Trojans.

Lou Zimmer, who covered the game for the Green Bay Press Gazette, said: "It was a case of an out-manned and undersized team out-charging their heavier opponents." It was the third straight game in which Coach Tom St. Germain's Trojans turned in a bruising defensive game, but they lost to Stambaugh 13-0 in their best effort two weeks ago.

.....

At Menominee Saturday night the Escanaba Eskymos showed 5,000 fans that they need take a back seat to none of the teams in the Upper Peninsula. But for a mental pass defense lapse in the final seconds of the game, the Eskymos played the Menominee Maroons to a standstill. In fact, many spectators felt that Escanaba outplayed the host Menominee team which is shooting for the U. P. championship this year.

.....

Jim Hansen, Menominee's reserve halfback who was injured and carried off the field on a stretcher late in the first period, suffered a double break in his right leg just below the knee. And Ken LaCanne, starting right halfback who was knocked out in a collision with Eskymo Dick Carlson early in the second period, failed to see action the remainder of the game. LaCanne stopped Carlson on the one-yard line, but fullback Dick Weycker carried it over on the next play. Weycker and John Peterson, tackle, were game captains for Escanaba.

The confusion over the time clock at Menominee left a bad taste in the mouths of many Escanaba fans. We're still not clear on just how the time ran out in the final minute. First the clock showed a half minute, then it ran out to zero and jumped back to 28 seconds. At any rate, the final time signal given by the officials just before Menominee's touchdown pass was four seconds remaining. It seems to us that a scoreboard clock should not be used if it is not official game time. It certainly is misleading to spectators and may very well be confusing to players too.

There were supposed to be four game officials at Menominee Saturday night, but only three showed up. Ray Hamman, W. W. Witte and Pete Briese of Appleton handled the game. The fourth official, Don Johnson, missed his ride from Green Bay and couldn't make it.

.....

Escanaba fans haven't seen a home football game since the Eskymos opened the 1952 season by losing to Soo 7-6 on Sept. 6. But they're in for a steady diet of home stands on the next three weekends. Next Saturday the Kingsford Flivvers, formerly coached by Joe Milokna, will be here. Iron Mountain provides the opposition the following Saturday and Marinette shows here Oct. 18. The Eskymos close the season at Gladstone Oct. 25.

.....

For St. Joe fans it is just the opposite. The Trojans were home the past two weekends but will finish out the season with four road games to Norway, Munising, Crystal Falls and Niagara.

Trojans Begin Series Of Four Road Contests

Victorious in their past two home starts, the St. Joe Trojans began preparations today for the first of four straight road trips that will close out the 1952 grid-iron season.

Following is the remainder of the St. Joe schedule:

Oct. 4—Norway there.
Oct. 11—Crystal Falls there.
Oct. 18—Munising there.
Oct. 25—Niagara there.

Coach Tom St. Germain's Trojans opened the season with successive losses to Gladstone and Stambaugh before breaking into the win column against Bark River. Last Friday night they repeated with an upset 14-13 victory over St. Norbert of DePere, Wis.

Second Range Game

In their road game at Norway Saturday afternoon the Trojans will be making their second appearance of the season against a team from the tough Menominee Range Football Conference, rated the strongest circuit in the Upper Peninsula.

Against Stambaugh's Hilltoppers the Trojans displayed a powerful defensive game which held then-unbeaten Stambaugh to two touchdowns and one extra point. But the Trojan offensive attack puttered out and St. Joe failed to score a TD while losing 13-0.

In its two succeeding games, however, the Trojans ranked up 52 points and seem to have found the missing scoring punch.

Norway owns a current record of one win against three defeats. Coach Alan Ronberg's Vikings defeated Crystal Falls 27-7 and lost to Stambaugh 31-7, Iron River 45-13 and Iron Mountain 28-6.

Potential Strength

Although its record is a losing one, the Vikings have shown potential strength in losing to three top-rated clubs. Iron Mountain and Iron River are undefeated this season while Stambaugh has lost only to Iron Mountain. The Vikings were able to score against each of those teams. Crystal Falls, Norway's lone victim, is winless this season and is also a St. Joe opponent a week from Saturday.

The Trojans will be seeking their second straight victory over Norway. Last season St. Joe bested the Vikings in a wild 24-20 clash at Memorial Field here.

On tap for the Trojans are heavy practice drills the remainder of the week. St. Joe came out of the St. Norbert clash in good physical condition and enjoyed a day off from practice yesterday.

Stanford Expected To Stress Aerial Attack

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—Stanford, with two football victories to its credit this season, will pit a great aerial attack against Michigan's version of the single wing in their intersectional clash here Saturday.

The expected crowd of more than 50,000 plus television viewers on a national hook-up (NBC) will watch one of the best pass throwers in Stanford history.

Bob Garrett, who warmed the bench last season while Gary Kerkorian was leading Stanford to the conference championship, whips the ball in better fashion than his predecessor.

It was Kerkorian who directed the 1951 club to a 23-13 win over Michigan at Ann Arbor in the first of their home and home series last year.

Two TD Passes

Garrett, the latest of a list of fine Stanford T-formation quarterbacks, threw the two touchdown passes that helped beat favored Washington State 14-13 last week. He completed nine of 18 tosses. The week before in the 28-14 win over Santa Clara he connected with ten of 12 attempts, two for touchdowns.

On the receiving end for the Indians are two rangy ends, Sam Morley and John Steinberg. Halfback Ron Cook is another target. Olympic Decathlon champion Bob Mathias, whose fullbacking gives Stanford's ground game its punch, is the newest threat as a pass receiver. The big, fast athlete proved he can snare passes on the run in the opening game and may be used frequently as a receiver against Michigan.

Needs Balance

Coach Chuck Taylor is convinced Stanford can score via air, but he knows Stanford's ground game must be improved to balance the attack. The Indians defense play came in for much praise last week.

Joe Ruetz, who scouted the Wolverines in their opener with Michigan State returned with the report Michigan was stronger this year than last.

Ruetz described Michigan as "one of the finest single wing teams in the country."

He said the Big Ten scouts he talked to think the team will finish high in the league standings.

Pass Defense Weakness Is Wolverines' Main Problem

By JOHN MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR — Michigan Coach Bennie Oosterbaan turned a critical eye on the Wolverine pass defense today with the memory of Michigan State's deadly aerial attack still lingering.

The passing of Spartan Quarterback Tom Yewic was instrumental in three of the four MSC touchdowns in the 27-13 Michigan loss Saturday.

A decided lack of height in Michigan's defensive backfield, plus a system that allotted but one man to a zone exposed a loophole in the Michigan defense that the Spartans quickly took advantage of.

Too Short

Dave Tinkham handled one of the defensive halfback jobs, while the other was alternately manned by Don Oldham, Frank Howell or Tony Branoff. Tinkham's five-ten height presented difficulties when Michigan State sent its big ends downfield. And that was the case with Oldham (5-9) and Howell (5-8). Branoff, the tallest, stands 5-foot-11.

Whenever the Spartans sent two receivers into one zone of the Michigan backfield, there was only one defender to cover the ground, leaving one receiver wide open on most pass plays.

Excluding the first MSC touchdown, a 70-yard run by Halfback Don Mc Auliffe, the pass played a big part in the MSC victory. The second Spartan drive covered about 70 yards, in which two passes accounted for 24 and 40 yards.

Complete Eight

On touchdown No. 3, a 39-yard aerial set up the score. And two passes sparked the last counter. One went for 12 yards, the other for four and the touchdown.

By completing half of their 16 passes, the Spartans were able to gain 210 yards that were fatal to Michigan.

Oosterbaan took things easy yesterday, allowing his players to iron out some of the kinks suffered in the hard-fought contest.

Only a light signal drill was run by the varsity, with Freshman Tony Branoff filling in for Right Halfback Frank Howell, who is nursing a knee injury.

But preparations for the jaunt to the West Coast for a game with Stanford, 14-to-13 victor over Washington State, were to start today in earnest. And the first order of business is pass defense.

Oosterbaan planned intensive work today and tomorrow. The squad is to leave by plane Thursday.

Oregon State Trip Next For Spartans

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP) — Oregon State coach Kip Taylor must feel like a sparring partner who has to step into the ring after watching the champ score a knockout.

Taylor, former Ann Arbor high school coach and football assistant at Michigan State, was among the army of scouts in the upper deck of the Michigan Stadium press box Saturday afternoon.

Taylor's team had an off day Saturday so he flew back to his old stamping grounds to size up the Michigan State offensive he'll meet at Portland, Ore., this Saturday.

"They have a terrific team," Taylor said. "They have good depth at nearly every position, especially in the backfield. I certainly have my work cut out for me."

At Michigan State, the 27-13 victory over Michigan was filled under "completed business." The squad and coaches concentrated on the next game—the meeting with Oregon State that could be the 17th victory in a row for the Spartans.

Line coach Duffy Daugherty, who scouted Oregon State's 14-7 win in the opener with Utah, had a fat file of information on the Beavers. Michigan State isn't taking this one lightly since there is still a bitter memory here of the 25-20 upset at Portland in 1949, the last time the Spartans flew to the west coast.

The squad has only today and tomorrow to work out on home grounds before boarding the plane for Oregon Thursday afternoon. The regulars who saw extensive game time Saturday were spared some scrimmage yesterday but an intensive workout was planned for this afternoon.

Former Tiger Farm Goes To Athletics

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Williamsport of the Class A Eastern League will be operated by the Philadelphia Athletics next season.

Thomas H. Richardson, president of the league, said yesterday the Williamsport franchise will be retained by local interests. The Athletics will supply the players and operate the team.

Williamsport was a farm club of the Detroit Tigers the last six years.

Redskins Upset Cardinals 23-7

CHICAGO (AP)—The Washington Redskins' 38-year-old player-coach, Sammy Baugh, was tossed out of the game last night but not before he had completed 11 consecutive passes to inspire his team to a 23-7 National Football League victory over the Chicago Cardinals.

The upset win, before 17,800 fans in Comiskey Park, opened league play for both teams and marked Washington's first triumph after five exhibition defeats.

Baugh and Don Joyce, a 250-pound second-year tackle from Tulane, exchanged blows after a pile up in the fourth period. Both were ejected by Referee Bill Downes.

It was the first time in the pro career of the usually calm Baugh—starting his 16th season with the Redskins—that he had been banished from a game.

Baugh tried 11 passes and completed all of them in the first half. Two went for touchdowns—two yards to Harry Dowda and 10 to Hugh Taylor.

Waterfowl Shooting Is On Eastern Time

In answer to a number of questions from hunters, conservation officers emphasize that the shooting time tables for migratory waterfowl issued by the conservation department are on Eastern Standard Time. Following the opening day, when shooting may begin at noon, hunters may follow the shooting time given in the time tables. The time changes by a few minutes each week.

For the days, Oct. 2 through Oct. 4, the western half of Delta County (including Little Bay de Noc) between the 87 and 88 meridians, shooting is allowed from 6:17 a. m. to 5:32 p. m. EST.

Shooting time tables may be obtained from the conservation department district headquarters or from any conservation officer.

Texas Pro Grid Club Signs Sherwin Gandee

DALLAS (AP) — A former Detroit Lions end has been added, and a former University of Michigan guard has been dropped by the Dallas Texans of the National Football League.

The end is Sherwin Gandee, 23, a six-foot-one, 210-pound rookie from Ohio State who was used mostly on defense. He was one of three players released by other NFL clubs. The others are center Keever Jankovich, formerly with the Cleveland Browns, and tackle Hamp Tanner, formerly with the San Francisco 49ers.

Four players released by the Texans on waivers included Joe Soboleski, the former Michigan guard. The others are Art Tait, tackle Ben Aldridge and linebacker Dick McKissack.

Dressen Makes Bid With Relief Ace

Black, Reynolds In Opener

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The pithless wonders of Brooklyn have put it squarely up to their wonderful rookie reliever, Joe Black, to get them off on the right foot against the favored Yankees in the World Series opener tomorrow at Ebbets Field.

Never before in big league history has a champion of either circuit been forced to undertake such a desperate gamble. Other rookies have been called upon in the important first game, and there have been bullpen specialists before. But the combination of the two, out there trying to turn back the Bombers before the eyes of the nation, will be unprecedented.

Manager Chuck Dressen took a calculated risk when he nominated the 28-year-old Negro freshman to duel with the Yanks' mighty Allie Reynolds, as great a money pitcher as there is in the game today.

He could have held his relief ace back and been assured of late-inning insurance as long as the big payoff lasts. He chose to play it bold, to stake his hopes of a world championship on one throw of the cubes.

If Black, an unperturbable control specialist, pitches up to his brilliant form of the regular campaign, he will give Reynolds a mighty battle tomorrow, if he turns back the Yankees, the 8-to-5 odds in favor of the American Leaguers will take an abrupt dip and it could turn out to be a rip-roaring World Series.

Should the gamble fail and Black take a shellacking, the National Leaguers are in bad trouble, stripped temporarily of the relief pitching which held their shaky mound staff together all season. The rookie phenom appeared in 56 games, and though he was credited with only 15 victories, his contributions easily equalled those of a 25-game winner. His earned-run average is the best in the league.

An angle which Dressen undoubtedly took into serious consideration in handing Black the blazing torch was the mental lift to be derived from winning the opener. Should the rookie win over Reynolds, the Yankees' best, other less endowed members of the Dodger staff might easily be inspired to pitch slightly above their usual weight in the ensuing games.

It was no surprise that Dressen named Carl Erskine, a 14-6 performer over the year, to face big Vic Raschi, 16-6, in Thursday's second game at Ebbets Field, nor that he nominated Preacher Roe, his veteran southpaw, to match portside shots with Ed Lopat in the third contest at Yankee Stadium.

Both teams were rested and in robust health. The only question was whether Gene Woodling, the Yanks' leading clubber, would be ready to start the opener and hit in the cleanup spot. He has had a pain in his groin lately, but said it felt much improved. If Gene decides to sit it out, Stengel will have to move catcher Yogi Berra up from fifth to fourth in his batting order.

The latest available figure on the number of different batting orders professor Casey Stengel has used in the course of the season is 97—and he said today he still doesn't know how his team will shape up in the first contest.

"I really don't know yet, and that's the best I can tell you," said the skipper as he held court for the press. "If you want to make it up, go ahead. Gene Woodling probably will bat fourth and Yogi Berra fifth—that is if Woodling plays."

Spartans Retain No. 1 Spot In AP Grid Poll

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — Resourceful Michigan State was a solid choice as the No. 1 college football team in the country today in The Associated Press' first weekly poll.

Sports writers and broadcasters, who in a pre-season sampling of opinion named the Spartans as the best bet to win the national championship, apparently were further convinced by State's 27-13 comeback victory over Michigan last Saturday.

They gave the Spartans 52 of the 83 first place votes cast and an impressive total of 752 points, nearly twice that of the No. 2 team, Illinois.

Point totals are arrived at by awarding 10 for a first place vote, nine for second, etc.

No other team got more than seven No. 1 votes, this number going to Maryland's Sugar Bowl champions, who gained third place on close-coupled triumphs over Missouri and Auburn.

California was named fourth, without a single first-place vote but with strong runner-up support, and Texas, winner over Louisiana State and North Carolina, as fifth with only five votes for top.

Completing the top 10, in order, were Georgia Tech, Southern California, Wisconsin, Kansas and Duke.

1. Michigan State (52)	752
2. Illinois (4)	435
3. Maryland (7)	383
4. California	371
5. Texas (5)	365
6. Georgia Tech	342
7. Southern California (5)	263

Drunk Driving Charge Denied

George Kallio, Chatham, entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned Monday before Justice of Peace A. T. Sohlberg on a charge of driving an auto while under the influence of intoxicants.

A tentative date for trial was set by the Justice and Kallio released under bond to assure his appearance.

Arrest was made on M-35 in Ford River Township by Michigan State Police.

Partridge Flies Through Window

The Elmer Holms came home from a drive Sunday afternoon to find one of their kitchen windows shattered. During their absence a partridge had flown through the pane, breaking it into many pieces. The bird lay on the floor inside.

"It's a good thing we weren't home," said Holm. "Someone might have been cut by the flying glass."

Beaumont Memorial On Mackinac Island Will Be Donated To State

A building on Mackinac Island, where the blast of a musket saved a million lives, is being restored by Michigan's doctors of medicine and will be given to the people of the state as an historical memorial.

Within a year the M. D.s of Michigan plan to restore the original American Fur Company store where a French-Canadian voyageur was accidentally wounded in his side in 1822. The wound left an opening in the man's stomach through which William Beaumont, M. D., a surgeon at Fort Mackinac, could observe the action of the gastric juices.

An original painting, depicting a phase of this outstanding medical discovery, was presented to the Michigan State Medical Society by Wyeth, Incorporated, a Philadelphia pharmaceutical firm, on September 23, while the medical society is conducting its 1952 annual scientific and business meeting in Detroit. It will later be hung in the memorial to Dr. Beaumont. The presentation was made by Stuart V. Smith, vice-president of Wyeth Incorporated. The painting was accepted by Otto O. Beck, M. D., Birmingham, president of the Michigan State Medical Society.

Dean Cornwell is Artist

The painting, "Beaumont and St. Martin", will be unveiled by Mrs. George L. Stokes, of Flint, great grandniece of Dr. Beaumont. It is one in a series commissioned by Wyeth Incorporated entitled "Pioneer in American Medicine". The artist is Dean Cornwell.

Cornwell ranks among the first of American muralists. Two of his outstanding murals, completed since 1924, includes 16 panels depicting "A Pageant of California's History" and are in the Los Angeles Public Library. Four other panels of a mural are in the New County Court House at Nashville.

The story of Dr. Beaumont's important medical discovery began on June 19, 1822 when the ugly rumble of a musket crescendoed through the boisterous voices of trappers and traders crowded into the American Fur Company's store on Mackinac Island.

As the sound echoed against the stone walls of the building, a startled young French-Canadian voyageur grasped his life side and crumpled to the hob-nail scarred floor. The voyageur's name was Alexis St. Martin.

Dr. Beaumont was hastily summoned from the Fort. He did what he could to repair the gasping wound in St. Martin's side even though he was certain the young voyageur could not live through the day.

But St. Martin lived with a hole in his side. St. Martin lived with a gastric fistula through which Dr. Beaumont could study the action of the stomach's digestive process as well as determining the role of emotion in digestion.

Monumental Experiments

His experiments on the gastric juices are monumental in the history of medicine. Until that time

IN TRAINING—Now completing basic Air Force training at Lackland Air Base, San Antonio, Tex., is Airman Robert A. Burnham, son of Mrs. Albert Deiter of Escanaba, Rte. 1, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Deiter Sr. of 1606 Stephenson Ave., Burnham enlisted in the Air Force in August.

little was known of how food was digested.

With painstaking care Dr. Beaumont recorded 51 inferences uncovered in his experiments. While his laboratory equipment was crude, his observations and interpretations were keen and clear—mileposts in experimental medicine. These observations were passed on to other men of science—doctors of medicine—so that more of them might know more about the mysteries of the human body.

Dr. Beaumont's contributions to medical science rank with Harvey's discovery of the circulation of blood and are rated above the famed experiments by Ivan Petrovitch Pavlov which contributed to knowledge of the physiology of digestion.

The construction of the memorial to Dr. Beaumont on Mackinac Island is being made possible by contributions of Michigan's doctors of medicine. An initial contribution for the purchase of the land was made by Parke, Davis & Company. Cooperation is also being extended to the project by the Mackinac Island State Park Commission with the support of William F. Doyle, Commission Chairman.

At the present time a house stands on the historic site. This house is being torn down, but any bricks or stones of the original construction are being saved and will become part of the restored building.

The work of bringing the memorial to a reality for the people of the state of Michigan has been and is being done by the Michigan

State Medical Society Beaumont Memorial Restoration Committee and the Beaumont Memorial Working Committee under the direction of Otto O. Beck, M. D., Birmingham, president of the Michigan State Medical Society.

Park Job Draws 700 Volunteers

LUDINGTON, Mich. (AP)—Ludington State Park is spic and span today—thanks to an estimated 700 men, women and children who turned out over the weekend to contribute 8,000 manhours of work. Twenty-nine separate projects were started and finished. They included shingling and painting of a bathhouse, moving of a large sand dune to enlarge the beach, painting 125 picnic tables, staining a footbridge and other projects.

General Chairman Hans C. Rasmussen estimated the donated labor was worth $15,000.

Among private equipment that showed up were half a dozen bulldozers, 50 trucks, a crane, three road scrapers and an earth mover. The project, organized by the

Ludington Chamber of Commerce, was known as "Operation Face-lift."

Early in the summer, the state announced a plan to set up a prison camp near the state park, with prisoners doing the clean-up work.

Local groups and individuals objected, and the state dropped the project. So "Operation Face-lift" became the method of expressing appreciation—and getting the work done.

BIG JITTERS

Do you have a bout with them now and then when the chores pile up and you start going in two directions at one time? The answer is to get rid of some chores such as those scrubbing and waxing sessions. Now you can relax, thanks to science. Here's a new means of keeping linoleum attractive with a hi-lustre, non-skid surface. This new liquid is not a wax but a tough plastic type coating that seals out dirt, thereby eliminating "scrub and wax" time. Glaxo dries in about one hour and is water clear. One application lasts for months. It's also ideal for cabinet tops. Available at The Fair Store Basement.

WANTED 500 DELTA COUNTY MEN and WOMEN

Who Want to Join the Republican Crusade Against Communism and Corruption. 500 more workers needed.

Are you sick and tired of molly-coddling communists, who would gladly ruin our country if we gave them the chance? Are you fed up with the corruption we hear about in our present-day government? Are you worried about inflation taking away your life time savings? Are you just plain worn out with continually paying higher and higher prices for things?

HERE'S YOUR CHANCE TO DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT!

The Delta County Republican Committee needs more members, more workers, more volunteers, more money. Couldn't you spare a little time for "active duty" before the elections?

So much has to be done. Door-to-door talks with the people...addressing envelopes...hand-lining mailing...telephone teams have to be formed. And, on election day, baby-sitting, while mothers vote...transportation to the polls...hundreds of productive, vitally necessary jobs need men and women to do them, IF we're to have a Republican victory at the polls.

We hope you'll volunteer, for work. If you can't work, contribute. Most important of all, do something, NOW! It'll take more than talk to win this year!
